

David Staff, Trumpet Player

David Staff is a virtuoso Trumpet and Cornetto player specialising in music from the Renaissance to Classical periods. He has performed and recorded with many of the world's leading ensembles. David has been at the forefront of the revival of the baroque trumpet. He is principal trumpet with Frans Brüggen's Orchestra of the Eighteenth Century and has been since its inception in 1981.

David has over thirty years of high level conservatoire teaching experience and is proud that many of his ex-students are now valued professional colleagues. He has given master-classes and seminars worldwide. He is currently Professor of Natural Trumpet at the Conservatorium van Amsterdam.
